VERY LITTLE IN HERE TODAY

Sch. Harmony Brings Small Fare of Salt Mackerel from Eastward.

There was but little to talk about in the fish line at this port this morning, two fresh fares down from Boston to split and one seiner being reported by the early pliers in the stream.

Sch. Harmony, Capt. C. Wesley Farmer, brought in 30 barrels of salt mackerel, being the fish that he refused to sell fresh at Portland on account of the low price which the dealers offered him. The two fresh fares are schs. Juno and Frances V. Sylvia, each craft having 40,000 pounds of mixed ground fish.

The torchers did poorly last evening, only about 50 barrels being landed here which went for bait.

RALPH WEBBER IN AGAIN TODAY

For the third time this week, sch. Marguerite Haskins, Capt. Ralph Webber, is in with a trip of mackerel. The craft arrived at Newport during the middle of the forenoon with another trip consisting of 50 barrels of fresh mackerel.

Evidently Capt. Webber is finding them and his two weeks' cruise is proving very profitable indeed. Monday he landed a nice fare of 165 barrels of fresh mackerel at Newport and lost no time in getting underway for another school. Tuesday morning he was back again with 45 barrels which with today's fare will give him and his crew a fine stock for a week's fishing, somewhere about $3000.

The mackerel netters did poorly last evening, the only arrivals here this morning being schs. Florida and Mabel E. Leavitt with 250 large fresh mackerel each.

Mackerel arrivals at Rockport this morning were as follows.

Sch. Cheokee, 90 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Minnie, 40 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Albertine, 38 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Joker II, 60 large fresh mackerel.

The fish sold at 21 cents apiece.

Mackerel at Portland.

Owing to the windy weather, the Portland mackerel market took a slight rise Thursday, but the figures were not alarmingly high. About 5000 pounds of the big fish were landed in all and the price paid was from 8½ cents to 10½ cents a pound. The largest single fare brought in was that of the Blanche Irving which had 2100 pounds. The Gypsy Maid had 1200 pounds while the rest of the dragging fleet averaged about 200 pounds each and there were ten of them.

Nova Scotia Mackerel Catches.

Good catches of large mackerel have been taken the past week at Liverpool, N. S. Some fifteen thousand were shipped to Boston the last of the week.

The transportation facilities are wretched, says the Coast Guard. The shipment of mackerel, which should have left Yarmouth on Frida's boat, so as to reach the Boston markets Saturday, was held up on account of poor rail facilities. There was no passenger train to connect with Friday's boat and therefore the shipment could not reach Boston until Monday.

Mackerel Catch and Imports.

The catch of salt mackerel by the fleet to date is 7864 barrels against 6508 barrels in 1911.

Imports of new salt mackerel received at Boston to date is 13,125 barrels against 12,413 barrels for the same period of last year.

The total catch of fresh mackerel to date is 31,275 barrels. In 1911 the amount landed was 42,106 barrels.

Imports of fresh mackerel landed at Boston to date is 10,330 barrels against 4928 barrels for the same period of 1911.

Lockeport Fishing Notes.

There is little doubt that a permanent boom is on in the fishing industry at Lockeport, N. S. There is now a fleet of 16 vessels, carrying about 125 men, regularly engaged from this port, besides innumerable small boats. Last month the catch of cod alone amounted to over half a million pounds.

The fishing schooner Halcyon, Shelburne built, has recently been purchased by the Cold Storage Company from Digby parties. She will carry 16 men. Orders for fourteen new dories have been given John Etherington.

The Roseway, the new vessel of the Roseway Fish Company, is doing well. She stocked $250 last week.

Tuesday morning large catches of herring were made in traps of Swirn Bros. and the Cold Storage Co.—Coast Guard.

Dogfish at Canso.

The dogfish star is certainly in the ascendant in the constellation Pisces at present, over the Canso section of Nova Scotia. The bay is being over-run with the voracious "vermin of the sea." However, many of the fishermen are turning a dollar or two by setting for the dogs, and selling their catches to the reduction works. I understand that some of the fares were refused at the grinder, the manager claiming to be overstocked. This has led to some criticism as to why a night shift has not been put on to expedite the work as was done in former years. Every effort should be made to consume all the dogfish possible, as the primary object of the plant is to help eradicate the pest, or if that is not possible, to diminish greatly the quantity of these fish pirates.—Coast Guard.

Oct. 19.

Capt. Cooney took the sch. Mary E. Cooney to Pensacola last fall, it will be remembered, and made several record breaking trips to the snapper grounds before returning home. He expects to make a few trips in southern waters after arriving there this year.

Oct. 21.

Greatest Ocean Depth.

The greatest depth yet found in all the oceans was discovered recently by a surveying ship of the German navy about 40 miles off the north coast of Mindanao, near the Philippines. Here soundings showed the amazing result of 9780 meters or a depth of six miles plus 406 feet. The greatest depth heretofore known was a spot south of the Island of Guam, discovered in 1901 by the U. S. cable steamer Nero. Here a depth of 9635 meters or less than six miles was found.

Sch. Arthur James arrived at Liverpool Thursday last and cleared.

The steamers Pet and Elthier each took out over 50 barrels of herring at the Portland Cold Storage plant. The entire fishing fleet were out Friday and it is expected some good catches will be reported.

Salt Mackerel Sales.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Harmony, consisting of 29 barrels of large fish sold to the Frank E. Davis Fish Company for the lump sum of $720.

Another Fish Story.

Southern California may have its tuna and concomitant Brobdiganian fish stories, but the men of the good tug Henrietta of the A. Paladini fishing fleet have a real fish story that tops any from the Catalina coast, according to a San Francisco despatch. After an hour and a half battle 10 miles off Point San Pedro the crew, with the help of the men of another tug, succeeded in bringing to port a gigantic sunfish twelve feet broad and estimated to weigh 1100 to 1500 pounds. Ten men on a block and tackle had all they could do to raise the fish clear of the floor for the photographers, and the weight snapped the heavy Manila rope used for ordinary cargoes as if it were twine.

The battle kept the crews of the two ocean tugs busy, and after the return one fisherman new to the game, who failed to leave his name, immediately retired to his home "on account," said his companions, "the fish bust heem a little on the nose."

Captain C. C. Hansen of the Henrietta first saw the fish, which was sleeping on the surface of the water on its side. The blow of the fisherman's harpoon, weighing about 15 pounds, awoke the fish to a desperate struggle. Captain Tom Low of the Iolanda came to the rescue while the fish churned the waters to a froth. The two crews belabored the captive with clubs and harpoons whenever an opportunity was offered, but the battle waged for an hour and a half before the steam winches could haul the fish aboard the Henrietta.

Halibut at Portland.

Sch. Marjie Turner arrived at Portland Friday from Quero with a catch of 15,000 pounds of halibut and 5000 pounds of shack fish. The schooner has been gone about four weeks, although her entire catch was made in the past fortnight, rough weather and lack of bait having prevented her doing anything the first part of the trip. Capt. Hart purchased her halibut fare at 12 1-2 and 14 1-2 cents per pound.

Destroyed Traps.

It is said that the Government fishery protective cruiser, J. L. Nelson, Capt. Wrayton, which has been cruising in the waters of Prince Edward Island since the close of the season looking out for illegal fishing, has destroyed about 800 traps and confiscated the ropes and anchors.

Sharks Bothered.

Immense white sharks, some of them from 20 to 30 feet in length, are infesting Mount's Bay, on the coast of Cornwall, to such an extent as to have brought to a standstill the seine net pilchard fishing, one of the most remunerative of the local fisheries.

Oct. 21.

Record Herring Catch.

All British herring fishing records were broken last week at Yarmouth, England, by the delivery of 320,000 herrings from a single boat. This enormous catch was made by the Sunbeam in deep water north of Yarmouth. When other boats, nearby, noticed the Sunbeam's luck they ran down to her, expecting to have part of her nets left for them after the Sunbeam's holds were filled. The skipper, however, kept on loading, till another boat of the same owner came alongside, and secured the balance from his nets, thus landing the entire catch, which realized $1600.

Will Repair At North Sydney.

The tug E. M. Gates, sailed for North Sydney last Friday towing the sch. Titania of this port, which was successfully floated on Tuesday night. The Titania is very little damaged and will go on the slip at North Sydney for repairs.

Oct. 22.

MACKEREL AT BLYNMAN BRIDGE

Were Schooling There This Morning and Some Were Caught on the Jig.

The mackerel netters had another good night's fishing and three trips were landed here this morning and five at Rockport.

The arrivals here were schs. Reliance 430 fresh mackerel; W. H. Clements, 500 fresh mackerel; Florida, 500 fresh mackerel.

At Rockport, the following fares were reported: Schs. Nettie, 450 fresh mackerel; Alberta, 450 fresh mackerel; Sylvester, 350 fresh mackerel; Nettie Franklin, 220 fresh mackerel; On Time, 150 fresh mackerel.

The Rockport dealers paid 21½ cents each for large fish and 15 cents for mediums.

Small mackerel commonly known as the blink variety have been schooling in Annisquam river the past few days. Some have been taken in nets, but no large catches are reported.

This morning about 7 o'clock quite a body of fish were seen schooling near Blynman bridge. A youngster put over a hook and line and caught several of them, while a number of spectators stopped to watch operations.

Over 200 barrels of mackerel reached Boston yesterday, from other places, by rail, but most of them were tinkers. The Yarmouth boat brought 796 barrels of mackerel for the Boston market Sunday, besides a large shipment for New York.

Domestic Salt Mackerel.

The recent arrivals of domestic salt mackerel at Boston have been 187 bbls. from St. John; 63 bbls. from Yarmouth; 122 bbls. from Port Hawkesbury; 144 bbls. from Charlotte-town; 85 bbls. from Halifax, and 247 bbls. from other points.

Fulton Fish Market Notes.

Business in the salt water fish market was light during last week. There were 25 trips of fish on the market smacks, with a total of 323,180 pounds. Twenty vessels landed bluefish, the total of that variety being 36,230 fish, which at an average weight of six pounds each equalled 217,380 pounds. Bluefish sold at 6 cents to a shilling a pound.

Only one trip of cod reached the market by smack. Market cod were quoted at 3 1-2 to 5 cents.

Pollock sales were made at 3 to 5 1-2 cents. The high prices prevailed during the first part of the week.

Haddock was quoted at 3 1-2 to 4 1-2 cents.

Hake sold at 2 to 3 cents.

Western white halibut sold during the entire week at a shilling. When there were Eastern white fish on sale the price was 17 cents.

Mackerel were comparatively cheap, sales being made at 35 to 38 cents.

Tinker mackerel brought good money. Some sold on Monday and Tuesday as low as $6 per barrel, while choice stock brought as much as $15. On Wednesday $18 was the quotation. Thursday the market was bare of tinkers, while on Friday the price was $14 to $18.
